

NARS (Northwest Amateur Radio Society) is proud to present:

Casey Curry

Meteorologist Casey Curry joined the Eyewitness Weather team in August 2006.

Casey started her broadcast career in Victoria, Texas. Before moving to Houston, she worked in Kansas City, Denver, Indianapolis, Chicago, and Abilene, Texas.

She is a graduate of the Broadcast Meteorology Program at Mississippi State and earned her Journalism degree at the University of Colorado.

Casey is an "Army brat" and calls the world her home. She was born in Panama and attended nine elementary schools. She's thrilled to be back in southeast Texas and closer to her parents, whose latest stop is Alexandria, Louisiana.

When: Friday, June 18, 2010, 7:30PM

Where: Cypress Creek Christian Community Center

6823 Cypresswood Drive

Spring, Texas 77379

What: Come meet Casey Curry, Channel 13 weekday morning meteorologist. She will talk about how she gathers weather information and presents it to the viewing audience.